

Hidden Door Case Study – Pre-Matrimonial Investigation Report

Title: Pre-Matrimonial Risk Assessment for Prominent Guwahati Family

Abstract

This case study presents the findings of a high-profile pre-matrimonial background verification conducted by Hidden Door. The client, a well-respected family from Guwahati, engaged our services to investigate a prospective groom prior to the formalization of a marital alliance. Within a three-week period, our investigation revealed critical discrepancies in the individual’s personal history, financial standing, and legal background. These insights empowered the client to make an informed decision, ultimately preventing a potentially fraudulent marriage and averting emotional and financial fallout.

1. Introduction

In an age where matrimonial alliances increasingly transcend geographic and cultural boundaries, ensuring the authenticity of a prospective partner’s claims has become essential. This case highlights the importance of structured background verification processes in matrimonial contexts, especially when reputational stakes are high.

2. Objectives

Objective ID	Objective Description
OBJ-01	Verify identity, employment, and educational background
OBJ-02	Investigate financial liabilities, credit history, and assets
OBJ-03	Check for criminal or civil litigations
OBJ-04	Assess social behavior and prior relationship history

Objective ID	Objective Description
OBJ-05	Deliver a risk assessment report for informed decision-making

3. Investigation Scope and Methodology

3.1 Key Areas of Focus

- Identity Verification: National ID, passport, and Aadhar checks
- Employment & Education History: Direct HR confirmations and degree validation
- Financial Records: Credit bureau checks, undisclosed liabilities, bank transaction trends
- Litigation Scan: Civil, criminal, and family court history across states
- Social Behavior Mapping: Online presence, prior engagement/marriage history, lifestyle risks

3.2 Tools & Techniques Used

Tool / Resource	Purpose
EPFO & PAN Data Matching	Employment and tax record validation
CIBIL & Experian Reports	Financial behavior and loan history
Court Record Aggregators	Civil/criminal case history across jurisdictions
Deep Web Search Engines	Social media, relationship footprints
Local Human Intelligence	In-person verifications and neighborhood intel

4. Findings & Case Development

4.1 Major Discrepancies

- Fabricated Employment: Claimed designation at an MNC was proven to be false
- Hidden Debt: ₹24 lakhs in unpaid loans under third-party guarantorship
- Legal Trouble: Subject was involved in a pending domestic violence case with previous fiancée
- Lifestyle Risks: History of gambling and high-risk stock trading uncovered via financial forensics

4.2 Risk Assessment

Risk Domain	Status	Severity
-------------	--------	----------

Risk Domain	Status	Severity
Financial Integrity	Compromised	High
Legal Standing	Pending Cases	Medium-High
Employment History	Misrepresented	High
Personal Conduct	Questionable	Medium

5. Outcome

- The marriage arrangement was formally called off.
- Legal consultation was facilitated to ensure all communications were documented.
- The client family issued a private advisory through their network to prevent recurrence.

6. Recommendations

- Mandatory third-party background checks before finalizing matrimonial alliances
- Use of escrow mechanisms for financial commitments tied to wedding expenses
- Continued monitoring where pre-marital settlements or shared ventures are involved

7. Conclusion

This case exemplifies the vital role of private investigation firms like Hidden Door in safeguarding personal and financial interests in matrimonial negotiations. Through precise and confidential work, our team enabled the client to avoid a deeply problematic alliance with irreversible consequences.

Project Leadership

This investigation was solely led by:

- Shwabnam Ahmed, Private Detective, Hidden Door

Her rigorous approach and comprehensive field strategy were instrumental in bringing the truth to light discreetly and effectively.

Prepared by: Hidden Door Intelligence Team

Classification: Confidential – Identity details redacted for client privacy